

● ○ • Soils SOLO for • ● ○ Europe

SOLO's newsletter is back with the latest project updates!

Check out what we have done since our last issue and what is yet to come in the near future.

Starting with the exciting reminder that the Soils for Europe Conference is less than two months away!

The Soils for Europe Conference, co-organised by SOLO, will take place between 7 and 11 September in Coimbra, Portugal. The sessions during the event will be focused on a few key topics directly related to the Mission Soil objectives.

If you will be among the attendees, check out the conference's official website for some helpful information regarding your potential accommodation.

Conference website

We had our last project Soil Week events this year...

The last edition of the Soil Week events took a uniquely different approach, making it a standout experience in the series. This time around, all partners held their events during the same week to increase the initiative's visibility and impact. We decided to have a launch webinar instead of the usual closing one, and the focus was primarily on in-depth discussions rather than large outreach. There were close to 300 participants across all events!

Soil Week news

The last Regional Nodes workshops have begun!

Regional Nodes 4th Workshops

the Netherlands, Portugal, Hungary, Sweden

While previous workshops in this series focused on identifying and prioritising Mission Objectives and knowledge gaps (KGs), the fourth session shifted entirely toward actors, governance, and roadmap implementation.

The Portuguese and Dutch SOLO teams already held their fourth and last Regional Nodes workshops; however, the Hungarian and Swedish ones are planned for late summer/early autumn.

A full recap of the Portuguese event can be found here.

Make sure to keep an eye on our website and social media channels for the Dutch recap soon!

SOLO's Think Tanks with their own series of events!

The project's Think Tanks (TTs) have been hosting webinars to discuss their progress so far, as well as the roadmaps they have been developing and continuously improving, and any other research, results, and updates.

The Soil Sealing and Urban Soils, Erosion Prevention, Soil Organic Carbon Stocks, Soil Structure, and Pollution and Restoration TTs have already held their webinars; four sessions remain. Stay tuned on our website as well as our LinkedIn and X pages if you are interested in joining any of the events or learning about the key takeaways.

More about SOLO's Think Tanks

Stakeholders gathered in Hungary for the Annual Meeting

We spent a couple of productive days in Kőszeg, discussing all sorts of matters, including the progress of the work packages, the conclusions after the soil events, the overarching roadmap, the key soil health drivers, as well as our impact KPIs and next steps.

To the full meeting recap

Follow us on social media and be among the first ones to learn about all things SOLO!

Soils for Europe

You received this email because you are a part of the SOLO project and/or signed up for our newsletter. If you received this newsletter by mistake but wish to receive it in the future, subscribe here.

Unsubscribe

Funded by the European Union

Views and opinions expressed are those of the author(s) only and do not necessarily reflect those of the European Union or the European Commission. Neither the EU nor the EC can be held responsible for them.

